

Choosing subjects

Choosing subjects can be a difficult task, especially if you are not sure which career you would like to follow. Exploring your abilities, personality, interests and values can be useful in making an informed career choice. Here are some questions you can ask yourself and others if you need guidance on your subject choices:

- What subjects interest me?
- What subjects am I good at?
- What subjects do I need for further study?
- Which subjects do I get my best results in?
- Do my marks reflect my ability in these subjects?
- Which subjects do I enjoy doing? Why?
- What do I want to do when I leave school? What skills do I need?
- Have I started to think about different career options?
- Will my subjects and personality enable me to enter into the field that I wish to pursue?
- What subjects are necessary for my chosen career?
- Does liking or disliking the teacher influence my subject selection? Am I willing to risk my future and drop a subject because I don't like a particular teacher?
- Will the subjects that I choose allow me to consider more than one career path?
- Do I want to go to university or any other tertiary institution after Grade 12?
- Have I considered tertiary education other than a university?
